Continuing Education Report

The Commission on Ministry requires that congregations provide both time and funds for the continuing education of their pastors because it recognizes that stopping and reflecting in a structured way on their ministry, learning a new skill, and/or gaining more knowledge will benefit both the pastor and the congregation s/he serves. Pastors and the session are both responsible for researching and reflecting on what sorts of continuing education events/programs/courses of study will be most beneficial to the pastor's own development and to the life of the congregation.

Please use this form to report continuing education events/programs/courses of study that the pastor undertook during the past year. (The Commission on Ministry suggests that the minister and appropriate members of the session work together to plan for the minister's continuing education each year.)
